Athletes and parents must be aware of the risks and dangers while participating in sports, especially contact sports. During practice or contests, injuries could occur to: muscles, tendons, ligaments, joints, bones and internal organs. Paralysis has occurred from spinal and neck injuries and studies show athletic injuries have resulted in death. Serious injuries may have an impact on the individual's ability to earn a living or engage in other business, social, and recreational activities. We sincerely hope no serious injury will ever occur, but feel a responsibility to all student athletes, and their parents, to make them aware of the risk that exists when they choose to participate. Please read carefully the information sheet handed out by the coach which describes the cautions, considerations, and responsibilities to be followed. The decision to participate should be made by the family only after all information has been reviewed. Your signature below indicates you are aware of the risks associated with participation in your sport.
