Upper Arlington Schools Educator Hall of Fame Nomination Form

For 100 years Upper Arlington students have benefited from the talent, dedication and skill of some of the highest quality teachers in the world. To honor the best of the best among high school teachers, the Educator Hall of Fame was established at Upper Arlington High School in 2007, by then-Principal Kip Greenhill. As the district enters its second century, the Educator Hall of Fame is expanding to include teachers and administrators of all grade levels, preschool through grade 12.

To be eligible for the Educator Hall of Fame, the nominee must:

- Have served as a full-time educator in Upper Arlington Schools for at least seven years;
- Have been retired from Upper Arlington Schools for at least five years;
- Have achievements in education that have distinguished the nominee from contemporaries.
