The Bob Crane Community Center is starting to rise from the ground at Kingsdale. This long-awaited project will take approximately two years to complete, but we plan to bring you regular updates along the way.

Construction Updates
The above photo shows the majority of the Community Center footprint within the Kingsdale redevelopment site. Work at the site began immediately following the April 8 groundbreaking ceremony. In May and early June, crews placed several footers onsite and began work on the foundations. The tower crane that will be used during construction was erected, and workers installed a new waterline across Tremont Road.

Community Center Manager
While the opening of the Bob Crane Community Center is still approximately two years out, UA Parks & Rec is laser focused on making sure they have the right team in place to be ready for opening day. To help with this effort, existing team member, TJ Putnam, has been selected to serve as the Community Center Manager.

TJ brings to the position 19 years of progressive experience at the City of Dublin’s Community Center, including general facility operations, fitness center operations and membership services. He joined the UA team in 2021, overseeing the department’s registration management suite, leading the overall

National Night Out
6-8 pm, Tuesday, August 1 | St. Agatha’s Parking Lot

The UA Police Division invites community members to its first annual National Night Out event, for a chance to interact with several local law enforcement agencies. Explore various safety vehicles, see demonstrations by local enforcement K-9 units, and get up close and personal with the UA Fire Division’s engine and medic trucks, and Sparky’s House.

The event will also feature refreshments from several local food vendors, giveaways from a Prize Wheel, inflatable games and more.

National Night Out is an annual community-building campaign that promotes police-community partnerships and camaraderie to make our neighborhoods safer, more caring places to live. National Night Out enhances the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement while bringing back a true sense of community. Furthermore, it provides a great opportunity to bring police and neighbors together under positive circumstances.

Celebrating Independence Day - UA Style!

It’s no secret that UA knows how to put on an incredible Independence Day celebration, thanks to the hard work of the all-volunteer UA Civic Association (UACA). With this year’s theme – Upper Arlington Traditions, featuring Mike Borders, Coordinator of Upper Arlington Special Olympics as the 2023 Parade Grand Marshal – the community’s Fourth of July traditions are not to be missed. Read on for an overview of the day’s activities, and some logistics and programming updates.

Parade
The parade begins at 9 am, heading south on Northwest Boulevard from Kingsdale down to North Star Road.

Parade Inclusive Zone
UACA has added an area in front of Holy Trinity Church toward the end of the parade route that is available for community members with mobility and sensory issues. The space will include a covered tent and access to parking for individuals with mobility issues. This space will also provide a quieter version of the parade, with participants asked to reduce the volume of their music and other noises by at least 50 percent as they pass by. This Inclusive Zone is spearheaded by the Red Oak Family Foundation.

Parade Traffic & Safety Restrictions
The Police Division will place non-movable barricades or City vehicles at streets intersecting Northwest Blvd. As a result, local traffic will not be able to use Northwest per the following schedule:

- 6:30-7 am - all streets between Zollinger Rd. and Lane Ave. will be closed at Northwest.
- 7-7:30 am - most streets between Lane Ave. and North Star Rd. will be closed at Northwest. It will still be possible to cross Northwest at Guilford, Barrington and Waltham roads until approximately 8 am.
- Travel on Northwest Blvd. will be limited after 7:30 am.
- Lane Ave. will remain open to traffic until approximately 8:30 am.

All streets are expected to be reopened to traffic by 1 pm.

Parking Restrictions
Parking restrictions will be in effect for most streets south of Lane Ave. that surround the parade route - in some instances this will be on both sides of the street, in other instances it will be on the fire hydrant side only. The affected streets will be posted in advance with “no parking” signs. No parking hours will be from 5 am-1 pm on the day of the parade. If you live in the area, please move cars into your driveway or to a nearby location where parking is permissible.

Party in the Park
Doors open at 5 pm at Northam Park, featuring The Conspiracy Band and culminating in an exciting display of fireworks at 10 pm.

Northam Park Layout Changes
The construction taking place on the west athletic fields at Northam Park will impact Party in the Park logistics. The UACA’s reserved table area and entertainment stage will be on the east fields, with limited surrounding space open to the general public. The UA Schools has kindly agreed to open the east playground/field space at Tremont Elementary School for fireworks viewing.

Fireworks Safety
Recognizing the dangers posed by fireworks if handled improperly, the City opted out of the State of Ohio’s 2022 fireworks legislation, and continues to ban the use of consumer grade fireworks in UA. This includes sparklers, bottle rockets, firecrackers and trick noisemakers. It is not the intent of the
FROM CHAMBERS | Highlights of City Council & Its Policy Decisions

Northam Tennis Update

Plans to renovate the Northam Tennis Courts and service building at Northam Park were postponed in 2022 when bids exceeded estimates by approximately 20%. During 2023-24 budget discussions, City Council members expressed support for these improvements but also indicated a strong preference for accomplishing the work within the previously approved budget of $4.2 million. The issue was revisited during Council’s Retreat in January, emerging as one of four “Tier One” priorities for 2023.

Since that time, Staff has been working with the design team at OHM Advisors and recreation consultant Ballard King to determine the best path forward for this phase of the Northam Park Vision Plan. They presented a detailed report of their findings to Council in May that included history, usage statistics, and comparisons to similar facilities in the region.

From this analysis, the team concluded eight courts would be sufficient to sustain the program, but recommended including a ninth court as a bid alternate. The recommendation also included some adjustments to the service building, reducing its size by approximately 12% and combining everything into one structure.

After some lengthy discussions, with extensive input from the tennis community, City staff has begun work to finalize the designs for nine courts and to solicit bids from qualified construction firms in the Fall of 2023. If the bids are within budget, staff will seek approval of the construction contracts in the Winter of 2024.

Full details of this project can be found under the Parks & Recreation section of our website, at upperarlingtonoh.gov.

City to be heavy-handed in enforcement, but the City has and will enforce its laws, especially when unsafe situations are witnessed by police.

We encourage you to enjoy all that UA has to offer over the Fourth of July holiday, but be wise, and above all, be safe. Leave the fireworks to the professionals.

Pools & Northam Tennis Holiday Hours

• Northam Tennis – closes at 3 pm
• Tremont Pool – closes at 9 pm

Tuesday, July 4

• Tremont Pool – closed

Wednesday, July 5

Gratitude

Planning and staging events like these is no small feat and it all happens thanks to the volunteer efforts of the UACA. This year’s coordinators are:
• Event Chairs Michelle and Steve Gdovin
• Parade Chairs Susie and George Pattison
• Float Chairs Katie and Andrew Widing
• Judging Chairs Cara and Jeremy Logsdon
• Fireworks coordinators Brandon McIntire, Doug Falor
• UACA President Jordan Braunstein

When these “Fourth of July” teams first take on the role of Judging Chairs, they are committing to a four-year cycle of increasing responsibilities, ending as Chairs for the entire day. UA is fortunate to have residents willing to undertake the planning and logistics involved in enriching our community in this way.

We also have City employees who are indispensable in the day’s events:
• Police Division—security, traffic
• Fire Division—safety, fireworks, first aid
• Parks & Forestry—assistance with event setup and breakdown
• Public Works—placement of barricades, banners and signage
• Electrical—power and lighting assistance
• Community Affairs—event liaison

As you enjoy what will certainly be a fantastic celebration, please give our City workers and UACA volunteers a word of thanks.
Franklin County Auditor’s Office
2023 Property Reappraisal
www.franklincountyauditor.com/knowyourhomevalue

Ohio law requires that the value of every property within Franklin County is updated in 2023 to reflect the current real estate market.

Home values across Franklin County are expected to increase by a historic amount because of multiple factors, including a strong real estate market, high demand for housing, lack of housing supply, local population growth and outside investment.

The Franklin County Auditor’s office is working to ensure residents are aware and prepared, and that you have a voice in establishing the most accurate value for your property.

In August, a proposed tentative property value will be mailed to every property owner in the county. If you are satisfied that this value is accurate, you do not need to do anything else. This value will be used to calculate your property taxes payable in 2024.

If you feel that the tentative value is too high or too low, the office wants to hear from you. Property owners can further discuss those values at in-person and virtual “property value review” sessions that can be scheduled throughout the month of September (scheduling to open in August).

The 2023 Property Reappraisal is not intended to increase or decrease taxes, but to keep property values up to date with Franklin County’s real estate market. While a change in value may impact your tax bill, that is not the goal. The only goal of the Franklin County Auditor’s office is to complete the most accurate assessment of property possible. It is important to keep in mind that taxes do not change at the same rate as property values (a 20% increase in value does not correlate to a 20% increase in taxes, for example) and are based on voter approval at the ballot box.

The state of Ohio Department of Taxation office establishes the final valuations and rates for all residential and commercial properties throughout Franklin County. For those who participate in property value reviews, these final values will be mailed to you in December.

Scheduling for a September property value review session, as well as additional information about the 2023 Property Reappraisal, can be found by visiting www.franklincountyauditor.com/knowyourhomevalue.

July is National Park & Recreation Month

Since 1985, people in the United States have celebrated Park and Recreation Month in July to promote building strong, vibrant and resilient communities through the power of parks and recreation. This year’s theme – “Where Community Grows” – celebrates the vital role park and recreation professionals play in bringing people together, providing essential services and fostering the growth of our communities.

In UA, you can celebrate Park and Recreation Month in so many ways. Visit our weekly Farmers Market. Cool off at one of our three outdoor pools. Explore the nature trail and prairie garden at Northwest Park. Join us for this year’s Arts on Arlington event at the Mallway on July 13 and the Summer Celebration family event at Thompson Park on July 21.

“This month is the perfect time to highlight all the stories, memories and experiences that park and recreation professionals help make happen right here in Upper Arlington,” said Debbie McLaughlin, Parks & Recreation Director. “We encourage everyone to share their own park and recreation story with us.”

Storm Damage Reminders

Following severe weather, the City is responsible for clearing debris from street trees in the public right-of-way. Debris from private trees is the responsibility of the property owner. However, the City may clear private debris from streets or sidewalks when expedient, or take action to abate immediate hazards even if privately owned trees are involved. Emergency and storm cleanup is prioritized using several criteria, and your patience is appreciated.

If a damaged tree is a threat to public safety, or obstructing the street or sidewalk, call Parks & Forestry at 614-583-5340 during office hours. After hours situations can be reported to 614-459-2800. For immediate emergencies call 9-1-1.

Residents can dispose of tree debris through the yard waste collection component of our Solid Waste Program or by taking items to the Regional Composting facility on Roberts Road. Visit the Solid Waste section of our website, at upperarlingtonoh.gov.

Do not approach downed or damaged power lines. Call your utility company or the Fire Division non-emergency line, at 614-583-5124, for assistance.
CITY MANAGER UPDATE

City Contracts with The Montrose Group, LLC for Economic Development Consulting Services

The contract with Montrose focuses on implementation of the City’s Economic Development Blueprint, a strategic plan completed in 2022. Core components of their efforts include business retention and expansion support, business attraction marketing strategies, small and minority business enterprise (MBE) business support, and participation in relevant Community Development Department projects.

During the selection process, the Montrose team presented a strong project approach that will blend well with our goals and organizational makeup. The fact that they have a local presence was an added benefit.

Upper Arlington has an impressive record in the economic development arena and is clearly a desirable community for businesses looking for a central location with first class residential and educational opportunities. Making sure we are proactively connecting with and supporting our existing business base is critical, while always seeking new opportunities to maintain a strong, diverse business community.

Throughout this contract with Montrose, we will explore fresh ideas for growing our economic development program and, ultimately determining the best approach over the long term. I am confident that in a year’s time, we will be ready to come back to City Council with a recommendation on next steps.

UA Community Foundation Grant Provides Microchip Readers to Help Track, Rescue and Reconnect Missing Pets with Their Families

For any responsible pet owner, one of their worst nightmares is for their dog to go missing - perhaps a side gate was left open, the dog slipped its collar when out for a walk or took off in fear during the 4th of July fireworks season.

One of the benefits of social media platforms like Facebook is the ability to quickly share that a dog is missing, letting others in the community know who to contact if the dog is seen or retrieved. Or residents also often use these platforms to post pictures of a loose dog with details of where they saw it in the hopes of connecting with the owners or friends and neighbors who might know the dog. Thankfully, on many occasions, dogs are quickly reunited with their owners but there are instances when a dog has been found but it’s proven challenging to track the owner down.

The UA Police Division’s ability to assist when dogs are lost has been greatly improved. Thanks to some caring community members and the Upper Arlington Community Foundation, a grant has enabled the division to purchase two Hero pet microchip readers and various pet supplies, such as dog collars and leashes, pet carriers, bite gloves and snare poles.

When a loose dog is found, residents can call the Police non-emergency number, at 614-459-2800. The responding officer will make use of the microchip reader to scan the dog. If a microchip is present, they will then check a pet microchip lookup website that helps guide them to the company that should have the pet owner’s information on file.

Bear was the first beneficiary of the new microchip readers, and was successfully reunited with his family in short order.

This is a prestigious national award recognizing conformance with the highest standards for the preparation of state and local government popular reports. This marks the 17th consecutive year that the City has received this award.

Mosquito Prevention
Like clockwork, a rainy spring followed by warm weather brings mosquitoes out just in time for summer. Mosquitoes are not only a nuisance, they are a potential health risk as transmitters of diseases such as West Nile, La Crosse Encephalitis and St. Louis Encephalitis. There are several ways to eliminate potential mosquito habitats. Make a habit of emptying, removing, covering or up-ending receptacles with the potential to hold water. Clean out gutters, bird-baths, pets’ water dishes and toddler pools, and take measures to treat and seal any rainwater barrels. You can treat these areas with Mosquito Dunks® - a natural bacteria toxic only to mosquito larvae.

From mid-May through September, Franklin County Public Health (FCPH) sets traps to identify areas where there are high numbers of mosquitoes or areas where mosquitoes are carrying West Nile Virus. If necessary, FCPH uses adulticiding (spraying) to reduce mosquito populations. FCPH uses Merus 3.0—a natural botanical pyrethrin listed with the Organic Materials Review Institute. Pyrethrins are botanical insecticides derived from chrysanthemum flowers that can be applied in and around organic gardens. FCPH has also improved its website, making it easier for residents to make online requests, complete a Do Not Spray form (which must be completed annually), and registration for beekeepers to help protect honey bee populations.

When FCPH decides to spray, here are some precautions you can take:

- Bring pets indoors
- Remain indoors with windows closed for about 30 minutes after spraying has occurred
- If you come in contact with any pesticides, wash with soap and water
- Bring laundry inside or rewash items if you were unable to bring them in before spraying occurred
- Wash any exposed fruits or vegetables from your garden before using

- Allow about one hour to pass before allowing children to play in areas that have been treated

If adulticiding is necessary, the City typically receives at least 24 hour notice of areas to be treated, and in turn, we use our website, email database and social media to inform affected residents. It’s also possible for residents to register for Mosquito Spraying Updates directly from FCPH. Check out our Mosquito Control page at upperarlingtonoh.gov for full program details.

As the 2022-2023 school year came to an end, Upper Arlington Schools students, staff and families celebrated important milestones for those moving on to their next step – whether it’s middle school, high school, college, career or the military.

Upper Arlington Schools’ 99th annual commencement ceremony capped off the celebrations for the approximately 420 members of the Class of 2023, as they walked across the stage on May 28 at the Schottenstein Center to accept their diplomas and officially join the ranks of Golden Bear alumni.

“This is an incredible accomplishment, and it takes a great deal of determination and dedication to get to this moment,” said Upper Arlington High School Principal Andrew Theado. “The Class of 2023 truly reflects our vision of uniquely accomplished students prepared to serve, lead and succeed – with accomplishments in service and leadership and, of course, the success that they have ahead of them as they begin their next chapter in life.”

Serve
The Class of 2023 has shown a remarkable commitment to service that goes above and beyond the school-based service and service-learning projects that they have engaged in throughout their time in the Upper Arlington Schools. Thirty-six students were recently recognized with the national President’s Volunteer Service Award for individually contributing 50 or more hours of service to the community. Three of those students each dedicated a remarkable 250 hours, or more, to community service in the past year.

Lead
The members of the Class of 2023 have been leaders in all aspects of the academic experience in the Upper Arlington Schools. Of the Class of 2023 graduates, there are 13 National Merit Semifinalists and 16 Commended Scholars, and 85 members of the prestigious Cum Laude Society, the highest academic recognition a high school student can achieve on a national level.

Outside of the school day, these students have won regional and state recognition in athletics, the visual and performing arts, computer science and robotics, journalism and news media, and more. They are the next generation’s Congratulations to the Class of 2023!
UA+Ed, Its Donors Support Meaningful Learning Opportunities

The Upper Arlington Education Foundation (UA+Ed) has a long history of providing meaningful learning experiences for students and for providing donors opportunities to make a lasting impact on education in the Upper Arlington community.

In the nearly 40 years since it was founded in 1985, UA+Ed has supported generations of students through grants, scholarships and awards that go above and beyond the district’s budget. These opportunities support the district’s strategic priorities of whole learning and student and staff well-being, as well as the UA+Ed’s vision of creating an inspired and thriving community of learners.

In 2022 alone, UA+Ed approved 77 grants and gave over $155,000 – impacting every student in every school. These grants have supported all facets of the UA Schools experience, including STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics); literacy; the visual and performing arts; athletics; and co-curricular and extracurricular activities.

Some examples include equipment for computer science and STEM learning opportunities for multiple grade levels; “buddy benches” and other initiatives that support well-being; a new digital kiosk at Jones Middle School that honors the history and legacy of alumni; author visits and motivational speakers; and scholarships for the 8th grade Washington, D.C., trip.

“This is an incredible time to be part of the Education Foundation, as we grow the number of grant requests from our staff and the amount we have given to support those meaningful opportunities for our students,” said Alice Finley, executive director of UA+Ed. “We are grateful for the continued support of our alumni and community, and we invite everyone to join us for our favorite annual FUNdraiser to continue to support our students.”

Parent-Teacher Organizations Enhance Experiences for Students

At the heart of each school community in the Upper Arlington Schools is a parent-teacher organization that provides volunteers, educational opportunities and resources, and a sense of connection for students, staff and families.

Families have many opportunities to participate in their school’s parent-teacher organization, or school association – starting with signing up to be a member of the PTO in the fall. The money raised through annual membership dues, as well as fundraisers throughout the school year, goes directly to support and enhance the day-to-day experience for students and staff.

Joining the PTO “helps to build a sense of community and helps parents become more engaged and familiar with school initiatives and programs,” said Ali Petty, the president of the Upper Arlington High School PTO. “PTO members choose their level of engagement, and it is an amazing opportunity to connect with students and administrators at all levels.”

By joining their school PTO, families will also be able to access their online school directory.

There are additional ways parents/guardians can get involved through volunteering, attending a social fundraising event, leading a committee or even joining the executive board. The PTOs help to fund scholarships for students; mini-grants for teachers to support things like service-learning projects and classroom enhancements; annual events and activities such as multicultural celebrations, field days or tailgates; and educational opportunities such as field trips and author visits.

Over the past several months, as I have been working to transition to the role of the next superintendent of the Upper Arlington Schools, I have spoken with many people in this community about why it’s such a wonderful place. In those conversations, one thing almost always came up: the Fourth of July.

I will officially become the superintendent of schools on July 1, and my family and I will experience our first Upper Arlington Fourth a few days later.

It is no surprise to me that this day is so special to so many people here. This community has a long tradition of coming together, in many different ways.

I have always believed the best public schools are those that are a reflection of the values and expectations of the community. As an Ohio native and a longtime educator in this state, I have always admired this great school district and how the Upper Arlington community and the schools work together to provide an innovative program and educational experience for students.

For the past two years, I had the privilege of serving as the superintendent of the Barrington 220 Community Unit School District, northwest of Chicago. While my family and I really enjoyed our time there, we have always admired Upper Arlington Schools. When the call came that they were searching for a superintendent, it was an opportunity we couldn’t pass up. I am very excited to come back to Ohio and make this community our home - both as a parent and as a superintendent.

My wife, Shannon, is an incredible educator and is excited to continue her career here as a literacy specialist with the Educational Service Center of Central Ohio. We are the proud parents of four children – “the bigs and the littles,” as we call them. Our littles – Emerson and Hawken – are in elementary school and are excited to become Golden Bears. Our bigs – Ashton and Braden – are on to their next step in life. Braden is continuing his academic pursuits in college, and Ashton recently graduated from the University of Dayton and will begin her teaching career in Worthington Schools this fall.

Over the past few months, I have been working closely with the Board of Education, Interim Superintendent Kathy Jenney, Ed.D., and our administrative team to prepare for this transition. I’d like to thank Dr. Jenney for her leadership and congratulate her as she prepares to retire after 10 years with our district.

Looking ahead, I will remain committed to continuing the conversation and will be spending a lot of time listening to our stakeholders about what’s going well and how we can improve. This will begin to inform what the process will be for us to define the next iteration of excellence for the Upper Arlington Schools. I had an opportunity to begin those conversations in May with the latest round of Listen Learn Lead community engagement sessions. We heard from hundreds and hundreds of students, staff members, parents and grandparents, and community members, and that feedback will help inform my priorities for my first year as superintendent. You can learn more about the Listen Learn Lead process on our website, www.uaschools.org/ListenLearnLead.aspx.

I look forward to meeting many more of you as we continue working collaboratively to help our schools be the best they can be.

Robert Hunt, Ph.D., is the superintendent of Upper Arlington Schools. You can email him at superintendent@uaschools.org and follow him on Twitter at @Hunt_EdLeader.

Succeed

After graduation, the members of the Class of 2023 are headed off for college, the military and some other destinations, too. They will be attending more than 100 colleges and universities across the country, and some are making different plans, whether it’s for a gap year, career or another path. Two graduates have committed to serving our country in the military and ROTC programs, and 20 have committed to continuing their athletic and academic pursuits at the college level.

“It’s no surprise these graduates have big plans for the future. Their long list of achievements speaks for itself,” Theado said. “We wish these students the best and are so excited to continue to watch them grow as they go on to their next step in life.”
Upper Arlington Schools is committed to being a good steward of our community’s investment in our schools. As part of that commitment, it is essential that we provide our community a clear and transparent view of our district’s finances.

The five-year forecast provides that important check-in point for our community twice every year. It includes three years of actual data and five years of anticipated revenues and expenditures — offering a look at both our current financial status and our outlook, including the potential impact of any future needs.

This legally required document is presented to the Board of Education and filed with the state of Ohio every November, and is updated every May. The May 2023 update reflects a few key changes since the November 2022 filing, including the 2024 calendar year property revaluation by the Franklin County auditor’s office. These updates to property values are completed every three years, based on state law, to reflect changes in the real-estate market.

This fall, all Franklin County homeowners will be receiving a new appraisal estimate from the county auditor. While property values are expected to increase by an average of 30 percent countywide, that doesn’t mean homeowners will be paying 30 percent more in property taxes — or that school districts will be receiving 30 percent more in property tax revenue.

As you may recall, a state law known as House Bill 920 ensures that voted operating levies do not grow as property values increase. In fact, as property values increase, tax rates actually decrease for homeowners, so the district gets about the same amount of money. There are exceptions to this, including something called inside millage, a fixed amount that is legally provided for by the Ohio Constitution and is not related to levies or bond issues approved by voters. Because of that, Upper Arlington Schools will receive an additional $2.1 million per calendar year beginning in 2024. For context, that amounts to less than 2 percent of the district’s total annual revenue.

In addition to the upcoming revaluation, the most recent update to the five year forecast also takes into account the governor’s proposed biennium budget, which was still making its way through the legislative process as of the writing of this column. Based on what we knew as of May, we expect the total amount of state aid that we receive to remain relatively the same.

You can take a closer look at the five-year forecast on our website, www.uaschools.org/ treasurer.aspx. While you’re there, you can also explore the other documents we have available — including the 2022-2023 Financial Update, our annual financial accountability report to the community. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at treasurer@uaschools.org.
135 UAHS students receive service awards

With a total of more than 14,000 hours of service, 135 UAHS students were honored as recipients of the 2023 President’s Volunteer Service Award. As the 2022-2023 school year came to a close, our schools hosted some special celebrations for students. From field days at the elementary schools to outdoor games and team-building activities at the middle schools, students packed a lot of fun into the final days of the year. The graduating Class of 2023 and fifth and eighth graders moving on to middle school or high school had their own special celebrations, too, including senior receptions at the elementary schools, clap-outs, and promotion ceremonies.
The JV 8+ boat represented the Upper Arlington Crew at the Scholastic National Championships in May and finished seventh in the country out of all public and private schools.

Hastings and Jones Bears spiked out hunger through a friendly, fun and, at times, a little silly volleyball competition / fundraiser in May – resulting in the donation of $1,978.65 and 300 nonperishable items to Mid-Ohio Foodbank.

Upper Arlington High School’s Elizabeth Poling, Clara Reynolds, Maggie Robertson and Elaina Schneider were state runners-up in the 4x400 and set a new school record.

Upper Arlington High School’s girls lacrosse team weathered nearly three hours in delays due to storms to capture their 11th state championship with a 14-10 win over Olentangy Liberty on June 3.

Upper Arlington High School’s Symphonic Choir received a Superior rating, placing the ensemble among the top choirs in the state, at the Ohio Music Educators Association adjudication in April.

The Upper Arlington High School boys lacrosse team clinched a regional title over Hilliard Davidson and went on to the state semifinals – where they lost to Cincinnati St. Xavier in overtime.
This summer, Upper Arlington Schools will welcome six new administrators to serve students, staff and families in several different roles.

Stephanie Siddens, Ph.D.
Deputy Superintendent
Dr. Stephanie Siddens is joining new Superintendent Robert Hunt, Ph.D., to serve as the deputy superintendent. She has more than 25 years of experience in education, most recently as interim superintendent of public instruction for the state of Ohio. She previously served in a variety of roles with the Ohio Department of Education, including director of the office of early learning, senior executive director of the center for curriculum and assessment, and senior executive director for the center of student supports.

Michelle Peterson
Barrington Elementary School Principal
Michelle Peterson comes to UA from Lakota Local School District, north of Cincinnati, where she was principal of Creekside Early Childhood School, a building that serves students in kindergarten through second grade. She has more than 25 years of experience in education, including five years as a principal.

Jacki Prati
Tremont Elementary School Principal
Jacki Prati is a longtime UA resident and a parent of four Golden Bears. She has served as the principal of J.W. Reason Elementary School in Hilliard for 11 years and was recently named the 2023 Ohio Principal of the Year by the Ohio Association of Elementary School Administrators. Previously, she spent 12 years as an elementary teacher and literacy coach in the Hilliard and South-Western school districts.

Penny Stires
Hastings Middle School Principal
Penny Stires comes to UA with 30 years of experience in education and nearly 20 years of experience as a middle school administrator, in Colorado and Central Ohio. She most recently served as principal of Fort Collins High School in Colorado. She brings to the Hastings community a strong background in special education and school improvement and a dedication to building strong relationships with students, staff and families.

Mindy Bean
Middle School Athletic Director
Mindy Bean is excited to support the Golden Bears as the new middle school athletic director. She comes from Upper Arlington from Purcell Marian High School in Cincinnati, where she served as the assistant athletic director. She has previously served as an athletic site manager and substitute teacher in UA. She will assume the role that was previously held by Logan Erwin, who is becoming the new assistant director of student life at Upper Arlington High School.

Bi-monthly News from the Upper Arlington Public Library

Smile! Raina Telgemeier Visits July 15

Our Tremont Road Branch will host author Raina Telgemeier for three separate sessions on Saturday, July 15. She’ll speak at 9 am, Noon and 3 pm, to share her journey from being a kid reader and artist to a teenage cartoonist to a professional author. Registration is required and is currently open on our program calendar at ualibrary.libnet.info/events.

Raina Telgemeier is the author and illustrator of the graphic novels Smile, Drama, Sisters, Ghosts, and Guts – all #1 New York Times bestsellers. She also adapted and illustrated four graphic novel versions of Ann M. Martin’s Baby-Sitters Club series.

Thank you to our 2023 sponsors: the Friends of the Upper Arlington Public Library, The Buckeye Lady, City of Upper Arlington, Columbus Museum of Art, Cover to Cover Books for Young Readers, Cub Shrub, Grandview Theater & Drafthouse, Kings Island, Littleton’s Market, McDonald’s, Ohio Renaissance Festival, The Original Goodie Shop, Piada Italian Street Food, and Rita’s Italian Ice.
A question I sometimes hear when I tell people I work at the Library is “do people even use the libraries anymore?”... usually followed by a comment about how they assumed libraries were irrelevant due to Google and the Internet.

I emphatically share that libraries are still popular and relevant with some staggering statistics: There are more libraries in the US than McDonald’s. The 251 public libraries in Ohio have more than 7.7 million library card holders and see 29.6 million library visits in a year. Here at the Upper Arlington Public Library, we welcome over 1,000 visitors every day who check out books and movies, attend programs, study in our quiet areas, do research, read the newspaper, and bring their children to play in our Early Learning Play Areas.

Although libraries still hold on to traditional services like book collections and programming, they are always thinking of new ways to serve and enhance programs, services, collections, and buildings to meet the needs of the community. UAPL is no exception.

Your library offers special services like passports and home delivery, unique collections like light therapy lamps, Wi-Fi hotspots, and memory care kits. We’ve ramped up our programming with Life-size Candyland, magicians, show dogs, trivia at SIP, murder mystery dinners, and yoga with kittens and goats.

Our streaming services and eBook and audiobook collection are available 24/7. We’ve seen a staggering increase in their use – about 20% each year.

To re-envision our buildings along with our collections and programs, the Library has hired HBM Architects and Interior Designers to facilitate a 10-year Master Facilities Plan that will take into consideration our systems, infrastructure, maintenance, and use of our spaces. We’ll offer community engagement sessions this Fall in which you can participate to re-imagine library spaces to meet your needs.

A few of the areas we hope to address are how to add more meeting space and to meet the increasing needs of laptop users, as well as a more efficient use of our Customer Service Department at our Tremont Road Branch.

We look forward to hearing your thoughts on how the Library can better utilize its space in the upcoming months.

Rebel with a Clause: Tales and Tips from a Roving Grammarian
By Ellen Jovin
If you enjoy debating the use of Oxford commas and apostrophes with friends, this book is for you! There are so many grammar conundrums discussed, dissected and even diagrammed in an amusing and approachable manner throughout this book. The author’s fun personality - and the colorful characters she meets in her travels across the country answering grammar questions - gives the text a conversational rather than textbook feel. This quick read is broken into short chapters by topic with a mini quiz at the end of each, and can easily be picked up and put down at your leisure.

— Nancy Byron, Miller Park

Chaos: Charles Manson, the CIA, and the Secret History of the Sixties
By Tom O’Neill with Dan Piepenbring
An intricately researched attempt to redefine the Manson murders and the context around them, journalist Tom O’Neill goes where few have gone before in his mission to get at the truth behind one of the most shocking events of the 20th Century. Pulling at every thread possible, the scope of O’Neill’s investigation goes far beyond Manson and his cohort and reveals a tangled web of coincidence and conspiracy. Chaos makes for a fascinating read, as the author dedicated the better part of 20 years to writing this book. His attention to detail pairs well with his ability to craft narratives around both the case and his own obsessive investigation.
