Early in the year, the community was invited to review and provide input on an initial set of renderings depicting the UA Community Center. Since that time, the design team has been refining and further developing floor plans. By June, they were ready to provide an update on their work with City Council and the community.

At the June 13 City Council Meeting, Staff and the design team shared various slides depicting how the plans have evolved, along with two exterior finish options (option 1 is shown above). The presentation included a discussion on the financials, and concluded with a review of the anticipated construction schedule, which remains on track to begin late in 2022, running through the fall of 2024.

The presentation was recorded and is available for viewing on the UA Community Center website, at uacommunitycenter.com. Continuing our commitment to keeping the community involved in this process, we encourage you to watch the presentation and share your thoughts and questions with us.

UACC Parking
An area that emerged requiring additional consideration pertains to parking. As the design team drilled into options for the proposed underground parking spaces, it became clear that due to the constraints of the site and building, the underground parking garage would not be as maneuverable and easy to use as initially intended. In response, the team has been considering options that could better accommodate our community members - with a focus on senior patrons and those with special needs.

A series of meetings focused on parking for the UA Community Center were scheduled for late June, per the following schedule:

Upper Arlington
Community Center Capital Campaign
Announces Matching Grant

The Upper Arlington Community Foundation has partnered with the City to help take the UA Community Center from vision to reality, through its Upper Arlington Community Center Capital Campaign. The campaign committee has set its sights on raising $8 million in private funds to support this exciting project and they are well on their way to achieving their goal, thanks to the generosity and support of numerous community members.

This summer, the campaign has opened to all in the community. To help build some momentum for this phase, an anonymous donor has generously committed $250,000 in matching funds for all donations up to $1,000 in value. Now through the close of 2022 - or until the $250,000 target has been reached - is an incredible time to show your support and to become part of the community building toward the UA Community Center, since your donation will be doubled.

Watch for UA Community Center Capital Campaign updates, with various ways to support this effort scheduled to roll out in the coming weeks. To learn more about the UA Community Center Capital Campaign and how you can become involved, visit togetherua.org/give today!

2022 Community Survey

Every so often, the City surveys residents to gauge how we’re doing in terms of the services we provide, and to identify where adjustments might be needed to stay in tune with the desires of the community. We are currently in the implementation stages of the 2022 Community Survey process.

In mid-late-June, 1,500 randomly selected households were scheduled to receive a letter from the City inviting them to participate in the survey. This letter will provide a user passcode and direct residents to complete the survey online. A follow up letter, with a hard copy of the survey included, will be mailed to households that do not complete the online version.

Once our survey consultant has received a sufficient number of responses to proceed with detailed analysis of the statistically valid findings, we will invite the rest of the community to complete a second online version of the survey that will be open to everyone. The data obtained from this second survey tool will provide supplemental information but will not be included within the statistically valid analysis.

As the returning data is analyzed, the emerging opinions and themes will be used in a variety of ways - aiding City Council as it sets direction for the City and as it prioritizes projects for inclusion in the 2023-2024 budget. In addition, our City departments will use the data to determine satisfaction with existing programming and services, possibly obtaining new ideas or suggestions for improvement.

Survey consultant, Illuminology, is undertaking the community attitude survey on the City’s behalf, so that the survey content and resulting data provides an accurate snapshot of community sentiment on a number of issues.

If yours is among the households selected to participate in the 2022 Community Survey, the City encourages you to do your part by responding and making your opinions known. Please allow approximately 12 minutes to complete the survey on behalf of your household.

For additional survey details, contact Emma Speight, Community Affairs Director, at 614-583-5045 or espeight@uaoh.net.
Integrated Turf Health Management Program

UA has long enjoyed a vibrant youth sports program, thanks to the volunteer efforts of several community members who serve as administrators and coaches. Over time, the high use of the City’s athletic fields for sports, general park user activities and community events has resulted in turf conditions that hinder the safety and playability of playing surfaces.

During the 2018 Parks & Recreation Comprehensive Plan process, it was determined that the conditions of the athletic fields were below acceptable standards, with resident input indicating that improvements should be a priority.

Since then, the City has taken a number of steps to meet that goal, including:

• Creation of a Parks & Forestry (Turf) Specialist position

• The prioritization of capital improvements for athletic fields

• Enhanced protocols within the existing maintenance plan

• Creation of a Field Use Policy designed to maximize field use in a sustainable manner

While these steps resulted in some improvements, it was determined that a more extensive maintenance program was needed to make lasting change. To that end, the Parks & Recreation Department conducted research on potential maintenance approaches and tools for providing consistent quality fields. This process included researching industry and peer-community best practices, community engagement, and discussion with the Parks & Recreation Advisory Board.

An Integrated Turf Health Management Program was identified as the best approach. The program was approved by City Council, following a series of hearings in May and June.

The backbone of the program will be to take a field-specific approach, based on frequent assessments, using an objective, comprehensive and systematic checklist for measurable items that affect a field’s safety and playability. This assessment will generate an overall rating score that, in turn, will govern which maintenance level is followed and which of the available tools – some combination of cultural practices (such as seeding and aeration), fertilization and pest management – should be prescribed and used for each field.

The Integrated Turf Health Management Plan can be found on our website, at upperarlingtonoh.gov - just look for the Parks Projects section of the Parks & Recreation Department webpage. Moving forward, this page will serve as the repository for providing implementation updates to the community.

If you have questions, please contact the Parks & Recreation Department, at 614-583-5300 or parks@uaoh.net.

Juneteenth Established As A City Observance

On June 13, members of City Council and the Community Relations Committee (CRC) were joined by community members to commemorate UA’s adoption of Juneteenth as a City holiday and to raise the Juneteenth flag for the remainder of the month at the Municipal Services Center.

Juneteenth is an annual holiday that marks the emancipation of enslaved African-Americans in the U.S. Juneteenth was first recognized and celebrated on June 19, 1865 in Galveston, Texas when African-Americans were informed of their freedom and that the Civil War had ended. The holiday has since received its name by combining June and 19, it is also referred to as Liberation Day, Black Independence Day, and Freedom Day.

The ceremony also marked one of the first community activities to be organized by members of the CRC, as part of efforts to raise their profile in the community and to meet with residents to discuss their goals for advancing UA as a welcoming community for all.

CRC members will be at the following events this summer, and they invite you to stop and visit with them:

• July 14 Music in the Parks Performance by The Mighty Troubadours - 7 pm, Thompson Park South

• July 21 Summer Celebration & Music in the Parks Performance by the NACHO Street Band - 6-9 pm, Thompson Park

• July 28 Arts on Arlington event, featuring performances by Red Healer & the Urban Jazz Coalition - 6-9 pm, The Mallway

• September 5 Labor Day Arts Festival - 10 am-4 pm, Northam Park

Proposed City Manager Policy on Neighborhood Compatibility

The beauty and quality of UA’s homes and neighborhoods are a source of pride for residents. As the homes have aged and UA’s desirability as a premier residential community remains strong, some property owners choose to invest in major home additions or to raze the old and invest in a new-build home that better meets their needs.

In recent years, the Community Development Department has experienced an uptick in permit submittals for substantial additions and replacement homes. In response, the City has taken steps to strengthen its regulations so that these projects better fit the character of existing neighborhoods. However, some residents feeling the impacts of the changes taking place around them believed that more could be done and asked the City to revisit the issue as part of a broader community discussion.

In the Spring of 2021, the City facilitated a series of discussion group meetings with community members to better understand what issues and questions exist and the level of intensity surrounding these concerns. A series of key findings emerged – with both positive and negative perceptions of the City’s neighborhood compatibility ordinance and how it is applied emerging.

From this feedback, Staff has developed a proposed City Manager Policy on Neighborhood Compatibility. The policy aims to provide a clearer understanding of the standards and regulations already in the City’s zoning code and provides additional clarity on how neighborhood compatibility will be assessed when substantial additions or replacement homes are proposed. The proposed policy was shared with the Board of Zoning and Planning at the end of April, made available on the City’s website, and a series of open house sessions were scheduled enabling residents to learn more, ask questions and provide feedback.

The draft policy was scheduled to be shared with City Council at its June 27 City Council Meeting, prior to the start of summer recess. Council will revisit the issue this fall to determine the next steps relative to implementation.

Full details can be found on the City’s website, at upperarlingtonoh.gov. Just look for the Community Projects icon on the homepage.

Boards and Commissions Update

UA is fortunate to be called home by many engaged, residents who embrace the opportunity to volunteer on behalf of their community. This includes serving on the various Boards and Commissions formed by City Council.

Council recently enacted legislation designed to simplify the oversight of these entities. Historically, terms were established as each Board or Commission was formed. As a result, the start and end dates for members’ terms were spread out throughout the year, making it challenging to track.

This housekeeping step will transition the expiration dates for all Board and Commission seats to June 30, while allowing for the continuation of staggered terms. The benefits that will be realized from this transition include:

• A streamlined onboarding and off-boarding process for members.
• A simplified process for promoting the call for appointments as terms expire.
• Applicants may express interest in more than one Board or Commission.
• A simplified process for tracking member terms.
• A streamlined application, interview and selection process for Staff and Council Leadership.
It’s no secret that UA knows how to put on an incredible Independence Day celebration, thanks to the hard work of the all-volunteer UA Civic Association (UACA). With this year’s theme – Stars Stripes and Trailblazers, featuring U.S. Army Veteran Mr. John Bergmann as the 2022 Parade Grand Marshal – the community’s Fourth of July traditions are not to be missed. Read on for an overview of the day’s activities, and some logistics and programming updates.

Parade
The parade begins at 9 am, heading south on Northwest Boulevard from Kingsdale down to North Star Road.

Inclusive Zone
UACA has added an area in front of Holy Trinity Church toward the end of the parade route that is available for community members with mobility and sensory issues. The space will include a covered tent and access to parking for individuals with mobility issues. This space will also provide a quieter version of the parade, with participants asked to reduce the volume of their music and other noises by at least 50 percent as they pass by. This Inclusive Zone is spearheaded by the Red Oak Family Foundation.

Parade Traffic & Safety Restrictions
The Police Division is implementing some parade route traffic and safety adjustments, placing non-movable barricades or City vehicles at the streets intersecting Northwest Boulevard. Local traffic will not be able to cross or use Northwest per the following schedule:
- 6:30-7 am – all streets between Zollinger Road and Lane Avenue will be closed at Northwest Boulevard.
- 7-7:30 am – all streets between Lane Avenue and North Star Road will be closed at Northwest Boulevard.
- Lane Avenue will remain open to traffic until 8:30 am.
- All streets are expected to be reopened by approximately 1 pm.

Party in the Park
Doors open at 5 pm at Northam Park, featuring The Conspiracy Band and culminating in an exciting display of fireworks at 10 pm.

Northam Park Layout Changes
Following recent stormwater improvements, a portion of the turf has been reseeded and is fenced off while the new grass can become established. As a result, the Party in the Park layout has been adjusted, shifting the reserved table area closer to the Tremont Library. A portion of the Tremont Road Parking Lot will be reserved for the general public, in addition to the southeast corner of the park (next to St Agatha).

Additionally, another portion of the park is fenced off for a gas line replacement project by Columbia Gas. This area is on the south end of the park adjacent to Northam Road and the Wexford Road intersection.

Fireworks Safety
This year, the State of Ohio has allowed the sale and use of some consumer-grade fireworks around certain holidays, while giving local governments the option to ban the discharge of and/or sale of fireworks. UA City Council opted to reaffirm its existing ban on sales and usage with one caveat: party poppers, smoke devices, snappers and sparklers may now be used, but on private property only. Therefore, no consumer-grade fireworks, not even sparklers, are permitted in the parks.

A word of caution: sparklers burn at upwards of 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit. That is hot enough to burn skin or set grass or leaves or houses on fire. Please be careful. If you choose to use them, keep your distance from anything, or anyone, that could catch fire and have a hose handy to immediately extinguish anything that ignites.

We encourage you to enjoy all that Upper Arlington has to offer over the Fourth of July holiday, but be wise, and above all, be safe. Leave the fireworks to the professionals.

Pools & Northam Tennis Holiday Hours
Sunday, July 3
- Northam Tennis – Closes at 3 pm
- All 3 pools - open Noon-9 pm

Monday, July 4
- Northam Tennis – closed
- Tremont Pool - closed
- Devon Pool & Reed Road Water Park – open Noon-5 pm
June Power Outages

It’s no secret that I love my job and appreciate the exceptional team that has been built here over the years. That appreciation grows tenfold during times of challenge, as was recently the case during the series of power outages that rolled across the region in mid-June, following severe storms that occurred during the overnight hours of June 13.

The team immediately began to assess conditions in the community, to set up generators and temporary stop signs at signalized intersections that had lost power, and to map out a plan of action should the situation worsen, while also taking steps to help keep residents informed.

Our buildings were also affected by the outages but we were able to set up a cooling and recharging station for residents. Our CARES team began reaching out to older adults in the community who might be in need of assistance, and our Fire Division put an extra EMS vehicle in service to meet any increase in medical runs resulting from the heat. Throughout this challenging time, our Parks & Recreation team kept pivoting to adjust programming as the outages came and went, managing to keep at least two of our pools open at all times so that the community could cool off. And we made sure we had extra food waste containers at our three drop-off locations, and supplied dumpsters at two of our parks so that residents could dispose of any spoiled food items.

As I write this, we are in day three of the outages, so while it’s not clear how much longer we will be experiencing these intermittent outages, I am hopeful we are nearing the end as temperatures start to cool back down and AEP’s crews work to catch up on the damage caused by the storms. Either way, I am confident that the team at the City will continue to monitor and adapt to the situation as it evolves, and I wish to thank everyone who has played a role in this effort.

Call Public Service at 614-583-5350 if you have any questions.
Mosquito Prevention
Like clockwork, a rainy spring followed by warm weather brings mosquitoes out just in time for summer. Mosquitoes are not only a nuisance, they are a potential health risk as transmitters of diseases such as West Nile, La Crosse Encephalitis and St. Louis Encephalitis.

There are several ways to eliminate potential mosquito habitats. Make a habit of emptying, removing, covering or up-ending receptacles with the potential to hold water. Clean out gutters, bird-baths, pets’ water dishes and toddler pools, and take measures to treat and seal any rainwater barrels. You can treat these areas with Mosquito Dunks® – a natural bacteria toxic only to mosquito larvae.

From mid-May through September, Franklin County Public Health (FCPH) sets traps to identify areas where there are high numbers of mosquitoes or areas where mosquitoes are carrying West Nile Virus. If necessary, FCPH uses adulticiding (spraying) to reduce mosquito populations.

FCPH uses Merus 3.0—a natural botanical pyrethrin listed with the Organic Materials Review Institute. Pyrethrins are botanical insecticides derived from chrysanthemum flowers that can be applied in and around organic gardens. FCPH has also improved its website, making it easier for residents to make online requests, complete a Do Not Spray form (which must be completed annually), and registration for beekeepers to help protect honey bee populations.

When FCPH decides to spray, here are some precautions you can take:
• Bring pets indoors
• Remain indoors with windows closed for about 30 minutes after spraying has occurred
• If you come in contact with any pesticides, wash with soap and water
• Bring laundry inside or rewash items if you were unable to bring them in before spraying occurred
• Wash any exposed fruits or vegetables from your garden before using them
• Allow about one hour to pass before allowing children to play in areas that have been treated

If adulticiding is necessary, the City typically receives at least 24 hour notice of areas to be treated, and in turn, we use our website, email database and social media to inform affected residents. It’s also possible for residents to register for Mosquito Spraying Updates directly from FCPH. Check out our Mosquito Control page at upperarlingtonoh.gov for full program details.

After delaying an operating levy request for the past two years, the Board of Education has signaled its intention to place a 6.9-mill operating levy on the November 8, 2022, ballot to provide needed funding to maintain the district’s high-quality educational program.

The Board voted unanimously on the evening of May 24 to approve the first of two resolutions required to place an issue on the ballot. The Board anticipated voting on the second resolution on June 21, which had not been held as of publication. As part of the Board of Education’s commitment to transparency, any decision to move forward with the request will be followed by a letter mailed to all Upper Arlington households, and updates will be available at www.uaschools.org.

Over the past few months, the Board of Education has been reviewing the district’s future financial needs and the anticipated impacts on our finances — historic inflation, enrollment growth, and the two-year delay of the operating levy request due to the pandemic and the economic situation.

“Amid the difficulties that families and residents have faced over the past two years, our school district has been good stewards to our community by creatively stretching our financial resources so that we did not have to return to voters until this fall,” said Board of Education President Lori Trent. “It has been five years since our last operating request — which is two years beyond the typical levy cycle for a suburban school district like ours.”

In the absence of new operating funding, the district has taken proactive steps to stretch resources, such as reducing the budget reserve; seeking out approximately $4.6 million in cost reductions, primarily through a three-year hiring freeze on new positions; and utilizing additional COVID-related funding made available to school districts.

“Even with these proactive steps, our expenditures are already outpacing our revenue — which reflects a typical levy cycle for a suburban school district,” Treasurer / CFO Andrew Geistfeld said. “It’s why suburban school districts like Upper Arlington usually go back to voters every three years to request new operating funding.”

The 6.9-mill request would provide needed operating funding for the district to continue offering high-quality academic programs for students while also taking steps to rebuild the budget reserve that had been reduced amid the financial constraints of the pandemic. The budget reserve, currently at 13% of annual expenditures, would gradually increase to 17%, or two months’ worth of annual expenditures, by fiscal year 2026. Prior to the pandemic, the Board of Education maintained a budget reserve of 25%, or three months’ worth of annual expenditures.

“As a business owner and a member of this community, I strongly believe in

Parent-Teacher Organizations Enhance Experiences for Students

At the heart of each school community in the Upper Arlington Schools is a parent-teacher organization that provides volunteers, educational opportunities and resources, and a sense of connection for students, staff and families.

Families have many opportunities to participate in their school’s parent-teacher organization, or school association – starting with signing up to be a member of the PTO in the fall. The money raised through annual membership dues, as well as fundraisers throughout the school year, goes directly to support and enhance the day-to-day experience for students and staff.

By joining their school PTO, families will also be able to access their online school directory.

Joining the PTO is “a great way to get to know other parents and students at your child’s school,” said Courtney Neckers, the Barrington Elementary School PTO co-president. “You feel more connected, and I think that helps the children feel more engaged in the school community as well.”

There are additional ways parents/guardians can get involved through volunteering, attending a social fundraising event, leading a committee or even joining the executive board.

The PTOs help to fund scholarships for students; mini-grants for teachers to support things like service-learning projects and classroom enhancements; annual events and activities such as multicultural celebrations, field days or tailgates; and educational opportunities such as field trips and author visits.

the district’s long-standing practice of having a conservative budget reserve fund. It helps protect our schools - and our kids - in case of financial challenges in the future,” said Board of Education member Lou Sauter. “By taking a gradual approach to rebuilding our budget reserve, we are honoring our commitment to be fiscally responsible while also respecting the financial challenges our residents may be facing with rising household costs.”

The 6.9-mill operating levy would add approximately $241.50 a year in property taxes per $100,000 of home valuation as determined by the Franklin County auditor. For an Upper Arlington home valued around $400,000, that would amount to an additional $966 per year based on calendar year 2022 tax valuations.

Over the past few weeks, we have said our goodbyes to the remarkable Upper Arlington High School Class of 2022 – our 98th graduating class – and celebrated the accomplishments of all of our students. While the 2021-2022 school year has ended, there is much to do in our schools as we work on final preparations for the upcoming school year and continue to provide academic and well-being support for our students through our summer programs.

This summer, we are thrilled to have more than 1,000 students taking part in Summer Academy, Summer Reading for grades 1-3 and our extended school year program. These are great opportunities for our students to grow their academic skills, earn middle school or high school credit, explore their passions and foster meaningful relationships.

Our teachers and principals are also busy finalizing student schedules, engaging in professional learning, and wrapping up their plans for the upcoming school year. We have a truly exceptional staff – whose commitment to challenging and supporting students is second to none.

This summer, we are also taking a deeper look at all of the feedback that has been gathered during the Listen Learn Lead community engagement process. You may recall that this process was launched back in March by the Board of Education, with the goal of helping our schools and our community be the best they can be.

This was a thorough process, with multiple opportunities for parents, students, staff members and community members to share their thoughts. This spring, we hosted seven community roundtable discussions and separate small-group student conversations at the elementary, middle and high school levels.

In late April, we launched a community survey, which was designed to strengthen our understanding of what was learned from the roundtables, gain clarity on contradictory themes and provide another opportunity for everyone to weigh in and have a voice.

I am thrilled to share that we have totaled approximately 1,800 touchpoints throughout this process – from the community roundtables through the community survey. I’d like to thank everyone who has taken the time to share their thoughts!

The next step in the Listen Learn Lead process is a report to the Board of Education at their June 21 meeting. That meeting hadn’t been held as of the deadline to submit this column, but by the time you receive this issue of UAiNSIGHT in your mailbox, you will be able to find the report posted on our website at www.uaschools.org/ListenLearnLead.aspx. Based on the findings, the Board of Education will determine any action steps to take. We’ll continue to share updates on our website and in the next issue of UAiNSIGHT.

Paul Imhoff, Ed.D., is superintendent of Upper Arlington Schools. You can follow him on Twitter @imhoffpaul.
As the 2021-2022 school year came to an end, Upper Arlington Schools students, staff and families celebrated important milestones for those moving on to their next step — whether it's middle school, high school, college, career or the military.

“Our students are truly exceptional, and every year we are so proud to celebrate the unique accomplishments of each and every one of them,” said Superintendent Paul Imhoff, Ed.D. “The Upper Arlington High School Class of 2022 — our 98th graduating class — truly stands out, and every member of this class has so much to be proud of during their time here.”

Upper Arlington Schools’ 98th annual commencement ceremony capped off the celebrations for the approximately 490 members of the Class of 2022, as they walked across the stage in the Schottenstein Center to accept their diplomas and officially joined the ranks of Golden Bear alumni.

After graduation, the members of the Class of 2022 are headed off for college, the military and some other destinations, too. They will be attending 112 colleges and universities across the country. Five very special graduates have committed to serving our country in the military and ROTC programs, and some students are making other plans, whether it’s a gap year, career or another path.

“This is an exceptional group of young people who truly reflect our vision of uniquely accomplished students prepared to serve, lead and succeed,” said Upper Arlington High School Principal Andrew Theado. “It’s no surprise these graduates have big plans for the future. Their long list of achievements speaks for itself.”

Of the Class of 2022 graduates, there are nine National Merit Finalists and 16 Commended Scholars, and nearly 100 members of the prestigious Cum Laude Society. The class has 16 students who have shown a remarkable commitment to service, receiving the President’s Volunteer Service Award for individually contributing 50 or more hours of service to the community. There are accomplished artists who have won state and regional awards, athletes who have competed at the highest level, and individuals who have explored their passions through the performing arts and extracurricular activities like mock and moot trial, Science Olympiad and robotics.

“We wish these students the best and are so excited to continue to watch them grow as they go on to their next step in life,” Theado said.

“We could not be more proud of Andy receiving this award – which truly reflects his commitment to fiscal responsibility for our community.”
Under Geistfeld’s leadership, the treasurer’s office has successfully managed a $230 million in bond funding for the first phase of the facilities master plan – ensuring that the community’s new high school and five renovated or rebuilt elementary school projects remained on budget and on schedule. In addition, Geistfeld’s office proactively took on a bond refunding project this year, which netted a gross savings of approximately $24 million for Upper Arlington taxpayers over the life of those bonds.

The district also consistently earns a clean audit opinion and the Auditor of State Award, most recently in 2022, recognizing its commitment to effective and accountable financial practices for the community, and continues to be one of a handful of Ohio school districts to have the highest bond rating – AAA – from S&P Global due to strong financial planning and community support.

As the 2021-2022 school year came to a close, our schools hosted some very special celebrations for students in recognition of a successful year and all of their accomplishments. From field days at the elementary schools to outdoor games and team-building activities at the middle schools, students packed a lot of fun into the final days of the year. For the graduating Class of 2022 and fifth and eighth graders moving on to middle school or high school, there were special celebrations including senior receptions at the elementary schools, clap-outs, and promotion ceremonies celebrating these classes.
The Upper Arlington High School track and field team finished the season with multiple school records and six student-athletes qualifying for the state championship meet.

For each day you read, color in a sea creature on your reading log. After you’ve colored seven sea creatures, bring it back to any UA library for a prize. Your first completed sheet will earn you a coupon packet and an entry in our grand prize drawings. With your second sheet, you’ll earn a book and a drawing entry. With your third sheet, you’ll get a drawing entry and a sticker.

Our selection of grand prizes includes something for readers of all ages, including Kings Island tickets, LEGO sets, gift cards to local businesses, a 2023 Upper Arlington family pool pass, and many more. Grand prize winners will be notified on August 1.

All reading counts! Attending storytimes, reading aloud together, listening to audiobooks – all types of reading count for everyone from babies to adults.

Thank you to our 2022 sponsors, who donated coupons or prizes to this year’s program: Arby’s, Brush Crazy, Buckeye Lady, City of Upper Arlington, Clay Café, Cover to Cover Books for Young Readers, Cub Shrub, Jeni’s Splendid Ice Creams, Kings Island, Original Goodie Shop, Original Pancake House, Piada Italian Street Food, McDonalds, Star Lanes Polaris, and Thurber House.

A huge thank you to the Friends of the Upper Arlington Public Library, who have sponsored Summer Reading Club for many years. They provide funds for prizes, performers, printing and more.

Dive Into These Activities
Be sure to visit our libraries for programs and experiences that will have you feeling like a sea explorer. Kids can make shark crafts at Miller Park Library on Friday, July 1 from 10 am-Noon. Our Lane Road Library has a Sea Creatures Scavenger Hunt from July 1-31. Our Main Library will host Shark Week activities daily at 2 pm from July 25-29. While you’re here, check out the ocean life floor path and sea-themed photo booth, then take the quiz in the vestibule as you exit to find out what sea creature you are.

StoryWalk
Visit the playground at Fancyburg Park to read this summer’s StoryWalk book, Way Down Deep in the Deep Blue Sea by Jan Peck. A child encounters different sea animals while exploring underwater. At the end of the StoryWalk, scan the QR code of your favorite animal for a special message.

The StoryWalk book changes each quarter and is made possible through a partnership of the Library and the City of Upper Arlington, with funding from the Friends of the UA Library, the UA Rotary, and Northwest Kiwanis.
On behalf of all of us at Upper Arlington Public Library, I’d like to express our appreciation and gratitude to voters for your support of our local operating levy.

The levy passed on May 3 with an overwhelming 76% voting in favor. The new levy begins in January 2023, and will generate revenue for the next 10 years. The funding increase will allow us to maintain our hours and services, retain our highly trained and dedicated staff, fix and improve our buildings that are in need of critical maintenance, and expand our outreach services.

I must also thank the many volunteers who shared their love of the Library and worked to ensure we would have the funding we need to continue to serve the community. Thank you to campaign co-chairs Stacy McIntire and Gloria Heydlauff, fundraising chair Sue Ralph, and the rest of the team for their hard work and dedication.

Thanks to the support of so many, we look forward to retaining our status as a 5-Star Library. We take pride in being a place that provides expert staff who offer personalized guidance through abundant resources, including access to millions of books, movies, music, research databases, technology and programs.

As always, we will continue to be excellent stewards of taxpayer dollars ensuring that these funds will sustain operations for the next decade. Thank you for allowing us to continue to enrich the lives of those in our community.

Morgan aims to build his Pierpont Morgan Library into the world’s foremost collection of rare books, art and manuscripts, and he appoints Belle to bring his dream to fruition. The Case of the Murderous Dr. Cream: The Hunt for a Victorian Era Serial Killer
By Dean Jobb
Dr. Thomas Neill Cream was a serial killer before the term was even known. He poisoned as many as 10 people in three countries over 15 years. Focusing on his murder trial in 1892 in London, when he was finally caught and brought to justice, this book explores his crimes, detection methods (or lack thereof) during the Victorian era, and who his victims were. Intertwined with history, this book not only brings this killer’s crimes to light, but also shows what life was like for those living on the edge of society.

Dopesick: Dealers, Doctors, and the Drug Company that Addicted America
By Beth Macy
Dopesick explores the small coal mining towns of Virginia and West Virginia that became the launch sites for Purdue Pharma’s powerful opioid, Oxycontin, in the mid 1990s. Macy dives into the history of Purdue Pharma, the Sackler Family, and the path of destruction Oxycontin has forged. It also chronicles how opioids have reshaped rural towns through personal stories and struggles with addiction that community members have faced for over 20 years. This is a great introductory read into the beginning of America’s opioid crisis and why we are still searching for a solution.
