At the February 17 State of the City Address and UA Community Center Joint Meeting, the community was treated to a preview of the proposed floor plans and some interior and exterior 3D renderings showing concepts of what the facility will look like. While the core building programming remains true to recommendations from the Community Center Feasibility Task Force, the vision has continued to evolve in response to ongoing feedback. This has included adding underground parking, moving uses in the building to maximize efficiencies and enhance customer convenience, and creating a welcoming entry area with seating and access to a café that will be open to all.

The full presentation, including the conceptual drawings and 3D renderings can be found at uacommunitycenter.com. We invite and encourage you to take a look at what is proposed and to send us an email to let us know your thoughts.

UA Community Center Capital Campaign
Margie Pizzuti, UA Community Center Capital Campaign Co-Chair for the Upper Arlington Community Foundation, provided an exciting update on their private fundraising efforts. As they ready to transition to the public phase of the campaign, they have already met their initial $5.4 million goal — including a lead gift of $2 million from Loanne Crane, in honor of her husband Bob Crane. Based on that success, and recognizing that the design team has adjusted its goals for the UA Community Center, the Campaign goal has been expanded to $8 million so that the Foundation can do its part to support the community’s evolving vision for this long-awaited facility.

In keeping with the City’s vision for creating a UA Community Center for everyone, all members of our community are invited to be part of this exciting endeavor. No gift is too small — or too large!! Watch for updates from the Foundation on the many ways you can become involved in the weeks and months ahead. For additional details, visit uacommunityfoundation.com.

Community Meeting 4
Late April
Watch for details of our fourth Community Meeting – coming in late April – where additional details of the evolving design will be unveiled.
A long-held tradition for the City at the start of each year is a celebration of the best in our community, through the annual Community Awards program. At the 2022 State of the City Address and UA Community Center joint meeting, we announced our 2021 winners:

Business

Gallo’s Kitchen

Tommy Gallo puts his entire soul into the food he serves! The pasta sauce he makes daily was his grandfather’s recipe, and he is visibly proud of carrying on that family tradition. On any given night, you will see Tommy warmly greeting his patrons, often sharing an embrace or a laugh. Tommy’s energy is infectious and he frequently brings out free samples of different dishes for his regulars to try. Staffing and supply shortages have been a huge challenge to overcome, but somehow Tommy pulls off amazing menus night after night. Gallo’s Kitchen is a neighborhood gathering place and part of the community’s fabric.

Community Enrichment

UA Gives Back

When the pandemic hit, Kelly Cantwell started a group called UA Gives Back on Facebook, with Elizabeth Blank, a teacher at Hastings, and Genny Futrell. They have supported a number of non-profits including Home For Families (HFF), Heart to Heart Food Pantry, Student Success Stores, Star House, Moms2Be, Open Shelter and others. With 600+ members in the group, their favorite organization has been HFF, providing 150 backpacks filled with school supplies the past two years and gifts to 100 children over the past two holiday seasons. HFF provides support to 800 families to help them find housing and food for their families.

Our congratulations to the following nominees: Kim Starr, Krystin Macaluso, Katie White & Jennifer Sega, Equal UA, Gloria Heydlauff, Chris Potts.

Community Safety

Hare Family

The Hare family’s life was turned upside down when their son was born with rare infant leukemia. As they navigated an eight-month in-patient hospital stay, they founded The Callahan Murphy Hare Foundation to raise critical funds for pediatric cancer research. In just five months, their foundation raised over $50,000 and started by contributing to innovative research at Nationwide Children’s Hospital. The Hares have big plans for their foundation to further support the need to do better for our children.

Youth

Tess Short

After her brother was diagnosed with a rare form of cancer, Tess (a 3rd grader at the time) began to worry about her brother and her parents. Tess re-discovered a bear her brothers had given her when she was born. This helped comfort her and manage her worries. One day, Tess decided to write a story titled, The Worry-Free Bear, about a girl who is battling cancer. Tess showed her story to several teachers and classmates at Greensview Elementary. They loved it and decided to publish the book to raise money for childhood cancer research AND to provide books and Worry-Free Bears to patients and siblings battling cancer. Tess’ positive attitude and constant smile is contagious, so it was no surprise that the communities of Greensview, UA, and beyond rallied behind her, the Short family and this project, to generously fund 500 books and 525 stuffed bears.

Our congratulations to the following nominees: Kennedy Beebe, Jiwon Son, Girl Scout Troop 6205-Kathryn O’Brien, Cate Seabloom, Charlotte Davis, Kaydence Baker; Leah DeCapua.

Right-of...What?

You just got notice that the City is planning a project near your property. It could be a road construction project, underground utility work or even a sidewalk project. The notice you got says the City will be working in the right-of-way and you think “Wait. Right-of-What the !@#!!?”

The official definition of right-of-way is the legal right, established by usage or grant, to pass along a specific route through grounds or property belonging to another. In simple terms, the City has the right to work on roads and the land adjacent to them, including sidewalks. These rights are established by the Ohio Revised Code, City of UA ordinances and the original subdivision plats.

So, what is the purpose of right-of-way and why is it wider than the street? Right-of-way is essential to providing many services to your home. It includes the things you can see like the road, curbs and sidewalks. It’s also used for public infrastructure and utilities you can’t see including sewer, water, gas, fiber and lighting conduit. Whenever possible, utilities are placed next to the road instead of under it which makes it easier to maintain them. The right-of-way boundaries were also set up with the future in mind and allow the City to change our road and sidewalk network and evolve with the community.

There isn’t a strong visual cue that indicates where the right-of-way ends (like a bright yellow line), but property owners are still responsible for knowing where the right-of-way is. To find the right-of-way on your property visit the *GIS portal at: https://upperarlingtonoh.gov/resourcesgis-maps/. The City does limit what you can put in the right-of-way and if you violate those limits, the City isn’t responsible for damage to things that are not supposed to be there.

Here are a few of our frequently asked questions:

What am I responsible for in the right-of-way, and what is the City responsible for?

The City is responsible for roads, water mains and sewer mains in the right-of-way. Under the UA Code of Ordinances you, as a homeowner, are responsible for maintaining sidewalks, driveways, and mowing the grass in the right-of-way.

Can I plant trees in the right-of-way?

Trees and landscaping are allowed in the Right-of-way. To plant a tree in the right-of-way you need to obtain a Street Tree Work Permit from the City Forester, available at https://upperarlingtonoh.gov/viewpointcloud.com/. Be aware that you plant at your own risk. If the City needs to remove something in the right-of-way, we are not obligated to compensate you or replace it beyond putting down grass seed. In Upper Arlington, however, it has been long standing policy that the City will take responsibility for City planted trees in the right-of-way. Those trees are usually between the sidewalk and the road in what is called the “tree lawn.”

Can I put signs in the right-of-way?

No. Signs and banners must be located on your property and not in the right-of-way. This includes yard signs and large banners, such as graduation banners.

Is the City required to give me notice before something is done in my right-of-way?

The City is not required to provide notice, but we do whenever it isn’t an emergency. However, we try hard to let residents know well in advance if we are going to be in the right-of-way on their property.

What about sidewalks?

The short answer is property owners are responsible for maintaining sidewalks in the right-of-way. There is, however, much more information about sidewalks available. Look for more information in a future edition of UA Insight.

GIS data for right-of-way is taken from the Franklin County Auditor and is accurate most of the time in the City’s experience. In order to verify this data, property pins (metal pins) locations must be confirmed in the field. For City projects, this verification is done during the design or construction survey.

In the spirit of broadening our communications reach here at the City, I had been considering the launch of a podcast for several months. It all came into focus early in the New Year. Thanks to some creative thinking, good timing and opportunity, Won’t You Be Our Neighbor emerged as a title that encapsulates all that we hope to achieve — a relaxed, welcoming venue for sharing City news and service updates, and for highlighting and engaging with our many impressive friends and neighbors through casual conversation. And if you haven’t already guessed from the play on words and red cardigans, we have Mr. Rogers to thank for our inspiration.

With the eager and able assistance of my trusty sidekick, City Attorney Darren Shulman, Won’t You Be Our Neighbor took to the airwaves mid-January, and to date, we haven’t looked back! In addition to featuring members of our City team who have been sharing timely updates on various projects, our guests so far have included:

- The outgoing Chair of the Community Relations Committee, Floyd Akins (pictured with us above for our inaugural podcast)
- Basketball legend and Honorary Co-Chair of the UA Community Foundation’s Community Center Capital Campaign, Bill Hosket
- Katie Smith, another basketball legend who has chosen to make UA her home and now shares her skills as assistant coach for the UA High School girls team
- Matt Boaz, the UA Schools’ Executive Director of Diversity Equity and Inclusion

As each podcast is completed, we are sharing them via our website, and through our weekly City Insight e-newsletter — if you’ve not yet registered for email updates from the City, now might be the time to make sure you are hearing from us regularly. See page 8 for City e-News details.

We hope to produce a minimum of two podcasts each month, and while we already have a long list of residents who are likely to be invited to join us as guests, we are looking for additional suggestions from the community. Similarly, if there’s an event, program or issue that you would like us to highlight, we’re all ears. Send your thoughts and suggestions to city.manager@uaoh.net.

As Central Ohio continues to grow, the abundance of wildlife is adapting to dwindling natural habitats and capitalizing on new food sources and nesting opportunities. Most times we can coexist peacefully with the array of birds, rabbits, squirrels and other creatures that take up residence in our yards and public parks, but some wildlife can become unwelcome “tenants,” causing destruction to property and, in some cases, posing a health risk.

When faced with these types of nuisances, it’s important to address it in a way that adheres to the Ohio Division of Wildlife’s control laws and for all of us to take the following measures as a matter of routine practice:

Managing Your Trash and Recycling
- Bag your trash and don’t overfill your trash container to be sure the lid is securely closed.
- Place containers at the curb no sooner than the evening prior to your regular collection day.
- Once collected, return trash containers to an enclosure, such as a garage or shed.

Maintain Your Yard
- Don’t let yard waste accumulate.
- Regularly cut grass and weeds in the growing season.
- Haul away any leftover building/project materials.
- Stack firewood on racks or pallets that are at least six inches off the ground.

Remove Possible Food Sources
- Clean up any pet waste daily.
- Store any food kept outside or in your garage in rodent-proof containers, such as galvanized cans with tight-fitting lids.
- Limit how much birdfeed you place in feeders. Put out only enough for the daytime and regularly remove any birdfeed that falls to the ground.
- If you feed pets outside, only leave the food out for as long as it takes for your pet to finish eating.
- Pick up any fallen tree fruit or garden vegetables.

If you do run into an issue with wildlife, the City has a contract with SCRAM! Wildlife Control, a division of the Ohio Wildlife Center, to provide wildlife management services to residents and businesses. Visit our Animal & Wildlife Resources page, at upperarlingtonoh.gov for additional information.

2021 Income Tax Filings
Deadline: Monday, April 18
www.ritaohio.com
All residents aged 18 years and over must file an annual income tax return with the City, regardless of whether any tax is due. The City uses the services of the Regional Income Tax Agency (RITA) for the processing of UA income taxes. As an extra service for RITA taxpayers, RITA provides on site municipal income tax return assistance each spring free of charge at its various locations. Agents can answer questions, take payments and assist with RITA municipal income tax preparation. RITA’s Worthington office, located at 760 Lakeview Plaza Boulevard, Suite 400, is providing in person taxpayer assistance Monday-Friday, from 9 am-4 pm. Please bring all necessary documents, including:
- W-2 Forms from all employers, and any W-2G Forms and 1099-MISC Forms.
- Addresses and dates for each location in which you resided during 2021.

The City’s Finance Department is also available for in-person assistance, and taxpayers can drop off their information at convenient, secure drop boxes at either the RITA/Worthington location or the Municipal Services Center Kenny Road parking lot.

Statewide Tornado Drill
9:50 am, Wednesday, March 23
www.ready.ohio.gov
As part of Ohio’s Spring Severe Weather Awareness Week, Franklin County Emergency Management and Homeland Security will participate in the annual statewide tornado drill. This is a timely reminder of how important it is to have an emergency plan—both at home and at work—and to practice it.

Fire Hydrant flushing
April 25-May 6
FIRE DIVISION 614-583-5100
Fire hydrant flushing will occur weekdays, April 25-May 6. This is part of an annual fire hydrant maintenance program that keeps hydrants in operable condition.

Most residents will notice no difference in their water supply, but a few could experience water discoloration after flushing has taken place. Refrain from doing laundry on the day hydrants are flushed in your area. Before resuming laundering, partially fill washers on the cold setting until the water runs clear.

Run a sample of water into a transparent container to check for settling or discoloration. Once the water is clear, the washer can be spun out to drain the tub for a normal laundry load. Turn on all faucets and allow water to run until it appears clear. Some may experience staining of clothes despite these notices. Clothes should be kept damp or wet to prevent the stains from setting. “Rust removers” or “rust fighters” are carried among cleaning products at grocery and hardware stores.

Visit the Fire Prevention page on our website to view this year’s schedule and map.

Body Worn Camera Grant
POLICE       614-583-5150
The Police Division’s new Body Worn Camera program represents a significant but important investment for the City. As such, the Police Division has been doing its due diligence to pursue available grants to help offset the costs associated with the program. In late December 2021, the division was notified that this effort has yielded a $90,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Justice, approximately one third of the initial program start-up costs.

Change Your Clock, Change Your Battery®
Sunday, March 13
To kick off Daylight Savings Time, clocks “spring forward” at 2 am, Sunday morning. The Fire Division reminds you this is a good time to change the batteries in your home’s smoke alarms. To stay safe, replacing batteries in all smoke alarms should be done at least once a year. In addition, smoke alarms should be tested once a month and if an alarm chirps, warning the battery is low, replace the battery right away.

Safety Town Registration

Sessions: June 20-24, June 27-July 1, July 11-15, July 18-22

POLICE 614-583-5150

Safety Town is a two-week summer preschool program that teaches children all aspects of safety. They learn about pedestrian safety by tricycling about a miniature village complete with streets, sidewalks, buildings, stop signs and a working traffic signal. Registration begins at 6 am, on Wednesday, March 23 for residents, and at 6 am on Friday, March 25 for non-residents. The cost is $100, and children entering kindergarten and first grade are eligible, but must be five years of age prior to September 30, 2022. Please note that classes fill quickly.

Friends of UA Parks friendsofuaparks.com

Friends of Upper Arlington Parks is a volunteer group that works with the City’s Parks & Forestry Division on invasive plant control projects and native plant restoration in UA Parks. The group meets regularly throughout the year on Saturday mornings from 9-Noon. Here are dates for the Spring:
- March 26 - Smith Nature Park
- April 16 - Northwest Kiwanis Park
- May 14 - Smith Nature Park

Citizen Camera Partnership

POLICE 614-583-5150

The increase of home security video devices has helped the Police Division identify and prosecute several incidents. Recognizing the value of these technologies in preventing and solving criminal activity, the division launched the Citizen Camera Partnership, an opt-in program designed to build a database of properties with video cameras.

By registering, residents and businesses are simply letting UA Police know that cameras are in use on their property, with Police only requesting access to video footage following a crime or other notable safety incident in the immediate area. The database is secure, with registered participants’ information kept private and confidential.

Visit the Police section of the City’s website for additional details and to register.

Building Permit Reminders

DEVELOPMENT 614-583-5070

If you have plans to remodel part of your home, our Community Development Department can help with an important first step: checking to see if your project requires a permit. The permitting and inspection process allows our staff to ensure that new and remodeled buildings meet State and City minimum building codes and standards. This not only ensures that your project is safe but starting a project without a permit could result in a “stop work” order, additional fees and in some cases a need to remove the work already completed and start from scratch.

Examples of projects that require a permit include:
- Constructing a deck
- Finishing or altering a basement
- If framing is removed/added to a kitchen/bathroom or the layout is altered
- If non-load-bearing walls and/or soffits are removed, altered or added
- Adding a porch or covered entry
- Building a fence or replacing an existing fence
- If roof decking, exterior sheeting or framing is replaced, along with shingles or siding
- If an exterior wall and/or header framing is altered during window replacement

The City has changed the application and permitting process for community special events that require use of City property and/or City logistical and planning support.

An online application form is to be used for all event proposals that involve use of public streets, parks or other City property. It can be accessed at https://upperarlingtonoh.viewpointcloud.com/.

Separate applications are available for Block Parties, Mobile Demonstrations and Car Washes. Also new for 2022 is a Park Use Permit for groups wishing to hold small activities in a City park that won’t disrupt typical park uses.

If you have questions, contact Parks & Recreation at 614-583-5300. For walks and runs, contact the City Manager’s Office, at 614-583-5040.

This spring, the Upper Arlington Board of Education is launching a community engagement process to listen, learn and lead by hearing from as many students, families, community members and staff members as possible in an effort to help Upper Arlington Schools be the best it can be – for many years to come.

“The world is changing so quickly, it is really important that we adjust and adapt to meet the needs of our students today,” said Board of Education President Lori Trent. “We are incredibly fortunate to have so many community members interested and invested in our schools. With all of these voices, it’s our goal to gather input and ideas to push us forward as a district – to benefit our students today and well into the future.”

Through this process, the Board of Education hopes to encourage meaningful and open dialogue involving as many stakeholders and as many different viewpoints as possible. This process will offer multiple opportunities and modes for individuals to provide feedback in the way that is most convenient and comfortable to them.

“Everything we do comes back to our students and how we can best support them in their academic journey here and their next steps in life,” Trent said. “We also hope this process serves as an opportunity for our students to learn and lead by helping to facilitate these community conversations – which will provide them with lifelong, real-world experience that will serve them well into their futures.”

More details are being shared via a direct mailing from the Board of Education to all households in Upper Arlington and will be published on the district website, www.uaschools.org/ListenLearnLead.aspx. Due to publishing deadlines, these details were not available before the printing of this newsletter.

“We see this process as a first step for us as a community,” Trent said. “The Board of Education wants to gather as much feedback as possible, through as many methods as possible, over the coming months with the hope of encouraging ongoing community engagement going forward.”
March is here, and it gives us all hope for warmer weather and clear skies ahead.

Another exciting thing on the horizon for us this spring is the first phase of the Board of Education’s community engagement process.

One thing that sets Upper Arlington apart is our community’s commitment to and support of education. We know that we are at our best as a district when we are actively working with our community to plan for the needs of our students.

We look forward to supporting the Board of Education in this process and to having the chance to gather for great discussions. Please keep an eye on the mail for more information on the many different opportunities for community members to get involved and share their voices.

Black History Month
One of the highlights of the winter was Black History Month, when we honor the contributions and the experience of Black Americans throughout the history of our country.

For this year’s celebrations, Upper Arlington Schools came alongside other Upper Arlington community organizations to create a lineup of programming for community members, students and families.

Throughout the month of February, our students engaged in several learning opportunities and experiences for Black History Month. These opportunities spanned all grade levels and enhanced our students’ learning in literacy, social studies, the arts and much more.

One of the many important people students have learned about is Pleasant Litchford, who made many important contributions to the Columbus area and, specifically, the area that became known as Upper Arlington. The contributions of the Litchford family are among the many pieces of our local history that we are sharing with students as we work to ensure we are teaching the full history of our community.

I’d like to thank our staff members and students who have dedicated time and effort to honoring Black History Month in our schools – which supports our continuing commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in our schools.

Treasurer’s Notes
Andrew L. Geistfeld

Upper Arlington Schools is committed to being a good steward of our community’s investment in our schools, and we take this commitment very seriously. Effective and efficient use of our financial resources is crucial to ensuring that we can provide the high-quality educational experiences that our students deserve and our community expects.

Every year, we rely on external, third-party review of our finances by the state auditor’s office. A team from the auditor’s offices delves into our financial records and reviews our practices.

This year, our district again earned a clean audit opinion - recognizing our commitment to effective and accountable financial practices for our community.

We also continue to be one of a handful of Ohio school districts that has the highest bond rating – AAA – from Standard & Poor’s. Two of the key factors in achieving this rating are our financial planning and our strong community support. The rating allows the district to obtain lower interest rates when issuing debt, decreasing the costs for our community.

Both our clean audit opinion and our high bond rating are good news for our district and our community. As we move forward in the 2022 calendar year, we are keeping a close eye on several things that may impact our finances – inflation, enrollment growth and the decision to delay an operating levy for two years as a result of the pandemic and the economic situation.

As of this fall, it will have been five years since we last went to voters to request additional operating funding. Over the past two years, in the absence of new operating funding, we have creatively stretched our financial resources by reducing our budget reserve; seeking out approximately $4.6 million in cost reductions, primarily through a three-year hiring freeze on new positions; and utilizing additional COVID-related funding made available to school districts.

Even with the proactive steps we have taken, our expenditures are already outpacing our revenue. This is a typical levy cycle for a school district, and it’s why school districts usually go back to voters every three years to request new operating funding.

As we go forward in the 2022 calendar year, the Board of Education will continue to discuss how it will address the district’s future financial needs.

If you would like to learn more about the district’s finances, please visit our website, www.uaschools.org/treasurer, or contact me at treasurer@uaschools.org.
Greensview’s Rock-a-Thon has Record Year
This year’s Rock-a-Thon at Greensview Elementary School was one for the record books. It was the 20th year for the service-learning project, and, with approximately $10,000 raised, it was the most successful Rock-a-Thon to date.

Rock-a-Thon is one of the long-standing service-learning projects in the Upper Arlington Schools, and that commitment to service-learning stretches back decades and is an important part of the district’s academic program and strategic priority of whole learning. Through service-learning projects, students are able to meet a real community need that connects back to what they’re learning in the classroom.

For the Rock-a-Thon project, fourth-grade classes at Greensview partnered with the Columbus chapter of After-School All Stars to learn about food insecurity and support their Winter Break Comfort Bag Drive by purchasing more than $7,000 worth of food, games and winter gear to fill the bags. The additional money raised went to the Land On A Cure Foundation to support an Upper Arlington Schools family whose son has a rare genetic disorder.

Orchestra Teacher Honored at the State Level
Upper Arlington Schools teacher Chris Lape has been named the 2022 Ohio String Teachers Association’s Teacher of the Year.

Lape, who teaches sixth, seventh and eighth grade orchestra at both Hastings and Jones middle schools, was recognized at the Ohio Music Educators Association’s state convention in Cleveland in February. He was joined at the conference by Upper Arlington Schools teachers as well as three Upper Arlington Schools students – Lucy Cheng (cello), Nathan Jeong (violin) and Anna Schuler (violin) – who were selected for and performed with the 2022 All-State Orchestra at the convention.

“This is such a well-deserved honor for Chris,” said Andy Hatton, Ed.D., Associate Superintendent of Learning and Leadership. “He is always going above and beyond for kids.”

Lape has been with the district since 2017. Prior to that, he was a student teacher in the district under Ed Zunic and Gretchen Zunic.

District Announces Enhanced Summer Academy Program
Upper Arlington Schools is proud to offer an updated and exceptional summer school program for the summer of 2022 for K-12 students enrolled in the district.

Summer Academy 2022 will build on the comprehensive academic offerings of past summer school programming and the academic and well-being offerings through Summer BRIDGE last year. All courses will be offered between June 6 and July 1 and will be free of charge to Upper Arlington Schools students for 2022 thanks to federal funding.

For more details, please visit www.uaschools.org/SummerAcademy.aspx.
District, City Partner on Litchford Memorial

The City of Upper Arlington and Upper Arlington Schools are partnering to build a park-like memorial on the site of the new Upper Arlington High School in recognition of the Pleasant Litchford family cemetery that had been located on that site.

Pleasant Litchford was a master blacksmith who had been enslaved in Virginia in the 1800s, bought his own freedom and went on to settle in the area that is now Upper Arlington. He built a successful business and purchased the land that is now home to the high school as well as Northam Park and Tremont Elementary School. Among Mr. Litchford’s many contributions to the area were establishing a school for African-American children and being a founding member of the Second Baptist Church, which provided an important voice in the anti-slavery movement.

The memorial will be located on the south end of the new Upper Arlington High School, where the cemetery was located. It will be a space that encourages learning and reflection for students and community members. Through this partnership, Upper Arlington Schools will fund $200,000 of the project through bond funds, and the City of Upper Arlington will appropriate $100,000 to fund and enhance the project.

The memorial will also be featured in the City’s History Trail Program, a partnership project with the Upper Arlington Historical Society. The History Trail is comprised of physical markers and signs in our community that help tell the story of Upper Arlington’s history, with supplemental information and resources available on the UA History Trail website. If you see a bronze round marker with a paw print next to a community sign, scroll to uahistory.org to learn more about the site’s historical significance.

BECS Registration Now Open – and Space Is Limited!

In December, students across the Upper Arlington Schools engaged in Hour of Code, an opportunity to learn foundational computer-science skills for their futures. Hour of Code also served as an opportunity for computer-science students from Upper Arlington High School to learn and grow in roles as teachers and leaders for these activities. Even though our world is surrounded by technology, only 51% of high schools teach computer science. Upper Arlington Schools is proud to offer computer science coursework and to see our students and staff find creative ways to spread these lessons beyond the high school!
World Read Aloud Day was February 2, and these kindergarteners at Greensview Elementary School listened to a special read-aloud of “Invent-A-Pet” by author Vicky Fang and then dreamed up perfect pet creations.

Barrington Elementary School fifth-grade students enjoyed a hands-on learning experience about the science of sound, using different instruments and methods to see how sound waves move through solids, liquids and gases.

Our schools lined up a series of learning opportunities and activities – including this bulletin board at Jones Middle School – to mark two important celebrations during the month of February: Black History Month and Lunar New Year.

Second grade and fifth grade class “buddies” cozied up to read together on a winter afternoon at Windermere Elementary School.

The Windermere Elementary School learning kitchen was a special treat for our students this winter! Cinnamon smellers and much more have been whipped up in the kitchen for some fun hands-on learning.
On May 3, 2022, the Upper Arlington Public Library's levy will be on the ballot, as it expires in November 2022. The revenue from the current levy is 53% of the Library's budget.

Right now, we are seeing over 26,000 people per month coming into our branches to check out materials, use the computers, get technology and research help from our staff, attend programs, pick up free COVID test kits, as well as use our facilities for reading, studying, working, and meeting with groups and friends. Countless people, organizations, and businesses would be negatively impacted if we had to reduce operations and let our buildings fall into disrepair due to a lack of funding.

As I walk around our libraries, I see parents with young children singing along with Miss Sarah from Miller Park during storytime. They relish the opportunity to socialize and gather with other parents as their children learn.

I walk down to the Reference Department in the lower level of the Main Library and see a gentleman on his laptop doing work and research on the computer while our team of expert research librarians work mere steps away to provide assistance.

Our meeting rooms are used by scouts, tutors, civic organizations, and other groups needing free gathering space. Students hang out and study in our Adult Department's group work area. Readers of all ages relax in our atrium with a book that our librarians found for them.

At Lane Road, I watch Pam, our Branch Manager, help a patron who is struggling with the computer. She patiently shows her step by step how to set up an email account, and as I watch the patron express her relief and gratitude, I wonder where she would go for the same help if we couldn’t provide that for her.

Yet, I am hopeful. We have been good stewards of taxpayer dollars, surviving on a static budget for the last 15 years. With the renewal of our 2-mill operating levy plus a 1 mill increase, the Library can continue its success. We can serve the community and its patrons with 5-Star service without an ask for another ten years.

More information about the levy, including speaking events where you can get your questions answered, is available on our website, at http://levy.ualibrary.org

Our Staff Recommends

Cowboys Full: The Story of Poker
By James McManus
This book is not just for card players, but for anyone who likes to view history through a different lens. A true fan of the game and a pretty good player, McManus has written an ode to poker in the same vein as A History of the World in 6 Glasses by Tom Standage. He intertwines the history of card playing and poker with world and US history ranging from ancient China, Europe, the Wild West, to modern day Las Vegas. It was insightful to view how being a good or bad poker player can influence your success or failure as a politician or a president.

— Tedd Maxwell, Lane Road

Zoe and Sassafras: Dragons and Marshmallows
By Asia Citro
This series kicks off with young Zoe discovering she has inherited her veterinarian mother’s ability to see the magical animals that are typically invisible to human eyes. She and her loyal cat Sassafras partner up as junior veterinarians, using science to solve the puzzling ailments of their magical patients. This book is fun, engaging, and a perfect intersection for kids who love magic, animals and science.

— Sarah Shepard, Miller Park

Last Night at the Telegraph Club
By Malinda Lo
Lily Hu lives in San Francisco’s Chinatown in 1954, which is a difficult time to discover you like girls. Lily's interest in math and sciences brings her closer to classmate Kathleen Miller, but they soon find out that’s not all they have in common. Kath brings her to a lesbian bar called the Telegraph Club where a whole new world is opened up for Lily. She has to grapple with two sides of her identity as the Red Scare threatens to tear her family apart. This young adult historical romance is beautiful, challenging, and heartwarming.

They Can’t Kill Us Until They Kill Us
By Hanif Abdurraqib
Losing his mother the summer before high school, nationally acclaimed poet, music critic, and Columbusite (and Capital University’s first Black soccer player), Hanif Abdurraqib delivers masterfully-crafted short essays on themes of love, loss, politics, honesty, community, identity, Eminem, invisibility, and more. Most essays are wrapped between vignettes about beloved musical artists. Sharing impressions of East Coast vs. C-Bus racism, his essays are poignant enough for some readers to spill grief, but also conjure lots of beauty and humor. His reference to Starbucks is sublime.

— Eliza Sproat, Reference Dept

No One Goes Alone
By Erik Larson
For the first time, best-selling author Erik Larson plunges into writing fiction. It can only be found on audio because Larson says “ghost stories are best told aloud.” Larson uses real historical people and events to weave a suspenseful story that has the listener on the edge of their seat. Psychologist William James leads an expedition to a remote island in 1905 to solve the mystery of disappearing people. As the team explores the house and island, unexplained events start happening. Consequently, the characters start being unsure whether they can trust their own eyes, their instincts, or even one another. A good nighttime listen.

The Lost Family: How DNA Testing is Upending Who We Are
By Libby Copeland
We’ve all seen the ads on TV showing how easy it is to learn about our ancestors by purchasing a home DNA testing kit. You or a family member spit in the tube, send it in, and wait for the happy result. Well, sometimes it can be and sometimes not. Are your parents really your biological parents or did they not tell you that you were adopted? Or that you were conceived via a sperm donor? These are a few examples of how people have found very different results than expected and how this newfound knowledge affected their lives and the lives of those connected to them. The book strikes a balance between explaining the science and having people share personal stories. It also lays out the myriad unexpected ethical issues surrounding all this new data and makes us all ask how we define family.

— Kate Porter, Assistant Director
COVID Test Kits
COVID Test Kits are in high demand, and in January the State announced that it is reducing shipments to libraries, choosing to prioritize its supply for schools. Any shipment we receive is likely to be a smaller quantity than in the past, and tests will go quickly. Please check the front page of our website at www.ualibrary.org for the current status of our supply and our distribution plan for any tests we receive.

Margaret Atwood Visit Postponed
