Athletes do not need to be competitive swimmers, but intermediate swim skills required.

Water polo is a unique sport that combines swimming with specific skills from basketball, soccer, and wrestling. In this clinic, athletes will learn the fundamentals through drills, game play, and receive a fun introduction to the sport. This clinic is led by the UAHS water polo coaches with help from the current players. Attire: traditional competition suits are usually worn in order to stay light in the water, but participants can wear what they are comfortable in
